RAPAPORT... The International Gemological Institute (IGI) was named the best gemstones testing lab for 2011 by the All India Gems & Jewellery Trade Federation.

Tehmasp Printer, managing director IGI India, who accepted the award on January 7, stated, that IGI was honored. "The efforts of each IGI team member to educate and bring the best to the industry and consumers embody IGI's mission and commitment. It has been a journey for us to earn the confidence of the trade and the consumer, and we stand proud today as GFJ recognizes us for doing so."
